Your self-sufficiency is our goal

CC&C is the man in the middle:

More delivery-focused than the strategy house, more visionary than the technology body shop

Strategy House

- Honest Broker
- Big Strategy Vision
- More Credentials than Experience
- Lots of Slides, Minimal Execution
- Good for Air Cover

- Honest Broker
- Big Strategy Vision
- Enterprise Leadership Experience
- Execution Experience & Accountability
- Good for Strategic Outcomes

SI / VAR / Body Shop

- Skills by the Hour
- Zero Strategy Vision
- Heavy Execution
- Good for following Orders

What CC&C Brings to the Table

What Our Clients Say

CC and C Solutions is a leading global authority on the Enterprise Architecture approach to managing change, especially technology change. They couple their specialist knowledge with extensive and comprehensive technology management experience.

- Robert Peake, Senior Manager, Strategy & Architecture
Australian Securities and Investments Commission

CC and C Solutions has been working with Cisco Systems throughout Asia Pacific. They have conducted training courses on enterprise architecture and certification on TOGAF®. They have also been working with us to synthesize business requirements of various industries with the enterprise architecture planning processes.

They bring practical experience to an esoteric discipline (EA) which is unique and highly valuable.

- Ron Fons, Marketing Manager,
Cisco Systems HongKong

CC and C Solutions is one of the leading industry experts on Enterprise Architecture and The Open Group Architecture Framework (TOGAF®). Their deep subject matter knowledge and extensive practical experience make them an effective EA consultant.

CC and C Solutions focuses on what works and real-world results vs. book theory. They have trained multiple sessions within P&G on TOGAF® and have received positive feedback for their effectiveness from every session.

CC and C solutions is a pleasure to work with and has delivered on all their commitments. I highly recommend them.

- Tony Hudnell, Associate Director, Procter & Gamble

We engaged CC and C Solutions for providing enterprise/solution architecture training. Their experts have a very good blend of domain knowledge / working experiences and they are leading consultants in strategy & architecture.

- Venkatesh Veluswamy, Chief Architect,
AXA Japan

We worked very successfully with CC and C Solutions to implement TOGAF at Applied Materials. CC and C Solutions have many experts in the field of IT architecture and have deep understanding of structure of business and issues involved.

CC and C Solutions makes good trade-offs where interests of IT and business require difficult choices. Their experts interact smoothly with people at all levels of an organization. They have high personal quality standards and integrity.

I am always looking for new opportunities to work with them.

- Wil Huijben, Senior Director, Applied Materials

CC and C Solutions provide great strategic vision to their clients' information technology needs and back that up with the practical know-how to implement process and technology to support the vision.

I strongly recommend them for any position where you need technical and business expertise, creativity and the ability to work under extreme pressure. You will receive the wonderful bonus of being able to just talk to them, leverage their decades of extensive enterprise architecture planning, research and development experience.

CC and C Solutions can and will help you achieve your goals.

- Vinod Parmar, Senior IT Professional,
MLC Australia

I have found CC and C Solutions to have highly intelligent, hardworking experts of high integrity. I have known their managing principal personally and professionally for the past 8 years.
